

Sell more in-store with sophisticated (but simple) AI.

CB4 is the easiest, fastest, and most rewarding way for c-stores to sell more product and satisfy shoppers.

"Having the right products in the right places is one of our most important duties. Using CB4, we do a better job at delivering on this retail fundamental." —Marko Zaro, CEO of Road Ranger

How it Works

Once a week, CB4 sends stores a list of SKUs that they can sell much more of now. Each store's unique selling patterns and operating conditions determine the list—so no two stores get the same recommended products.

Sometimes products are underselling because of how or where they're placed. Sometimes there's a labeling issue or inventory discrepancy. Sometimes they're plain out of stock.

We don't slow you down with irrelevant, stale insights. We only highlight SKUs that will add significant revenue now. Stores make quick, easy fixes—like taking a product out of backstock or ordering more units—to gain new sales and satisfy shoppers.

How CB4 is Different

C-stores already use a few methods to try and uncover opportunities to sell more. But what do reporting solutions, slow sellers lists, and store walks all have in common?

They're a drain on labor, don't provide insights at the speed you need, and can't account for the local differences at each individual store in your chain. CB4 overcomes these limitations. And with CB4, communication goes two ways.

Stores respond to recommendations by sharing what they found and how they fixed it. CB4's algorithms use this to learn more about how each store operates and send more actionable, higher value recommendations over time.

Speaking of algorithms, you can't find our patented AI and machine learning algorithms—developed by leading scientists at the University of Tel Aviv—anywhere else.

These c-stores mind their floors with CB4:

How can we drive sales in your c-stores?

Let's find out! It takes a few days to run an impact assessment. Or to learn more, go to CB4.com to watch a short demo or set up a call.

"We're seeing sales lift at the item level by identifying operational opportunities uniquely tailored to each store."
—Marty Roush, VP of Ops at Kum & Go

Stay One Step Ahead

When you carry a lot of SKUs and inventory turns over fast, small mistakes add up in a hurry. CB4 sends on-time insights that keep up with your business.

½ Hour a Week

Store teams spend about 30 mins/week using CB4. Every minute they spend earns them an additional $16 on average in new revenue.

Time Well Spent

Get up-and-running in two weeks and onboard up to 300 stores a day with zero IT legwork. See ROI in three months or less, and make 0.5% to 2% in net new revenue.

Prioritize What Matters

We find the biggest revenue opportunities weekly at every store. You choose how many we send. Stores that get 10 recommendations make ~$27,000 in new sales per year.

Ask Less, Get More

We don't drain store teams' resources and they appreciate it: 84% of store managers like CB4 and see its value.

Your Shoppers Will Thank You

78% of shoppers say being able to get everything in one visit determines where they choose to shop. Sell an extra 510 items/month per store with CB4.